TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

Six candidates appeared before the examiner, Dr. Seymour of Fort Qu'Appelle, for teacher's certificates, on Tuesday last. The papers set by Rev. D. Lewis were of a most satisfactory nature, that gentleman having scrupulously avoided what are commonly known as "catch" questions—questions given to publish the smartness of the examiner—and adhered to practical work. Another feature was the absence of all ambiguity in the form of expression, a matter too often neglected.

The electors of this portion of the electoral district of East Assiniboia presented Mr. W.
D. Perley, M. N. W. C., with a requisition to become a candidate at the forthcoming election for the House of Commons. It was signed by about 200 of the electors of all shades of politics. Mr. Perley accepted the requisition as well as the nominations at meetings in other parts of the district, and has issued his address to the electors.

MOFFAT.

The municipal elections are now nicely over, and quietness again prevails.

Water is very scarce in this neighborhood at present, quite a number of the sloughs are frozen to the bottom, in consequence of which several of our farmers have to drive their cattle upwards of two miles to water.

An entertainment was given in the church in this place on Friday, Jan. 7th. Although the night was very cold quite a number gathered together to "enjoy the good cheer of Moffat. After all had partaken of a bounteous repast, Mr.
Cook took the chair, and amused the audience for some time with his witty remarks. A lengthy program consisting of Songs, Readings, Recitations, etc., was gone through very creditably. The recitation by Master John MacAllister was especially good, and called for an encore.
The gathering dispersed at a late hour, after singing the National anthem, apparently well pleased with the evening's entertainment.
The proceeds amounted to $24.50 which liquidated the remainder of the debt on the church.
[Held over from last week]

PHASANT FORKS.

For a long time a need has been felt in this neighborhood, for a Mutual Improvement Society for the benefit of the young portion of the community and a few weeks ago a number of the foremost spirits met together and formed themselves into a society to be called the "Pha-sant Forks Literary Society." The Rev. F. G. Barnes was elected President and Mr. W. Willis, Sec.
A committee of management was also appointed, who at once began to take action and arrangements were made for the 1st meeting to be held on Saturday January 8th, 1887. Mr. John Allen, who was very popular as a lecturer in England was selected to inaugurate the Society by giving a lecture on some subject to be chosen by himself. He kindly consented and announced as his subject "Puck." For upwards of an hour, he discussed his theme in a masterly manner, giving the fullest satisfaction to his numerous auditors. The lecture was replete with information and full of good advice. Examples of the virtue of "Puck" were cited in abundance, while poetry and history were rendered tributary to enforce the lessons he wished to inculcate.
Mr. Allen is well read and fluent in speech, and any similar society in this neighborhood would do well to secure his services. Mr. Willis also gave a recitation which was well received. The meeting was presided over by Mr. John Buckler. An entertainment to consist of readings, recitations and singing is to be given on the 15th inst., when local talent will be again brought into requisition and an enjoyable time is anticipated.

GRENFELL.

—Messrs Sherlock & Freeman have enlarged their store by an addition of twenty-two feet.

—Died at Grenfell, Assn. Henry Phillips aged 83 years, of Congestion of the Lungs. The body was sent to Ottawa for interment.

—Notwithstanding the severe weather business at Grenfell is good, wheat keeps steadily advancing in price.
Mr. George Anderson is making arrangements to ship in large quantities next summer of butter and eggs to British Columbia.

—Dene Ramon hath it that Mr.
B. P. Richardson has consented to become a candidate for election to the Northwest Council next year, to represent the Broadview District.
If so he will probably be elected by acclamation.

—On Wednesday evening the 12th inst., the members of the Grenfell Mutual Improvement Society held a very interesting debate on the following subject: Resolved that the United States contains more elements of future greatness than Great Brittain. The following week 19th inst.
R. v. J. Pooley of Broadview will lecture under the auspices of the above Society at Grenfell, on British Columbia.

—On Monday evening 10th inst.
a committee was formed to take the necessary steps for the formation of a library association to be known as "The Grenfell Library Association." The committee drew up a set of rules by laws and etc., which was submitted at a Public meeting on the 12 inst. and passed. The Society has for its object the establishment of a Public Library and reading room. The outlook is very encouraging as with books and subscriptions there is now about $50 to begin with. Anyone having books or periodicals they would donate to the Society, would be gratefully received.

WHITEWOOD.

—Amusements during the coming week may be rated at one party, one permit and two litigated cases.

—Many farmers are short of seed grain this spring and are availing themselves of the government distribution.

—The residents of this town have petitioned the Post Master General to run a mail car on every C. P. R. express. The mid-week break in the mail is a great nuisance.

—Benjamin Lemoges, our live merchant, has put up a large platform weigh scales supplying thereby a great want and placing much satisfactory trading on a sound footing.

—Dr. J. W. Provost from Montreal has hung out his shingle here and determined to "kill or cure" —one of the inhabitants. We guess the doctor is feeling our pulse just now. If the doctor gets out of cooling draughts it will be on account of the agitation caused by the announcement of the general election.

The annual meeting of the Whitewood agricultural society was held last Wednesday, John King the acting president in the chair. The annual report was read and the officers appointed for the coming year viz John Street President, Henry New-march 1st Vice President, Joseph Cullen 2nd Vice President, Charles Marshallhay Sec. Treas. The Society is to be incorporated.

Mr. Goheen will try to gain the seat for the Exchange division of Liverpool.

French troops were twice required, with considerable loss, in attempting to capture a rebel stronghold in Tonquin.

NORTHWEST MODEL FARMS.

(Toronto Mail)

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—Sir John Lester Kaye is again in the city.
Your correspondent to-day had an interview with the officials of the Department of the Interior regarding the Globe's attack upon his scheme. The information furnished was to the following effect:—Sir John Kaye may or may not get the land he is after, as the negotiations are by no means concluded, but one or two facts must not be overlooked. The C. P. R. experimental farms have been established for three years, and the land about them has always been open for entry, but not a single settler has yet located an acre in their neighbourhood except at Gleichen and Sir John Kaye does not propose to buy there. The reason is that at those stations the land is a bare, uninviting prairie, and there are so many more inviting places to be had. If, however, capitalists can be induced to thoroughly test the capabilities of these points, and should their efforts prove encouraging, these will become centers of well-settled districts.

The average settler has not capital sufficient to make experiments, but should Sir John Kaye's scheme prove successful, the poorer settlers would then be in a position to undertake similar work, having data as to what result would be. The land is dry, and it will cost a lot of money to get water for stock.
There is no fuel and no timber for building material, and owing to the small amount of rainfall it will be only by the most thorough cultivation that grain growing will become successful. This the ordinary settler is not prepared to undertake.
Sir John Kaye's scheme, however, contemplates settlement to the full capacity of the lands, and includes bringing out and settling on these farms a large number of English farm laborers. Finally, the Globe makes a funny blunder, which fully illustrates its knowledge of the matter, when it locates the farms in the Red Deer district. Sir John Kaye may come to terms with the Government, but there are certainly some good points about his scheme as the Canadian people as well as himself.

RAILWAY PLANS.

Loughheed & McCarthy, of Calgary, gave notice that at the next session of the Canadian Parliament the "Chinook Belt & Peace River Railway Company" will apply for incorporation and the necessary authority to construct a railway from a point on the St. Mary River to Fort McLeod, thence to the Peace River, in the Northwest Territories of Canada, with the usual powers to build a telegraph or telephone in connection therewith, and all necessary bridges, and to take and acquire lands for the right of way, station grounds and other necessities.

Notification is also given that at the next session of Parliament the Saskatchewan & Western Railway which runs at present from Minnedosa to Rapid City, will apply for power to extend its line to the western boundary of Manitoba to a point north of the Qu'Appelle River, thence northwesterly to a point at or near Township numbered twenty-two of range numbered three, west of the second meridian. The Parliament will also be asked to declare the railway a work for the general advantage of Canada, and to confirm its case to the Manitoba and Northwestern for a period of ninety-nine years. The proposed extension runs through the territory of the Northwest Central Railway, and should it be constructed that railway will probably remain forever in about the same condition it now is.

BONUS THE RAILWAY.

Elsewhere in our columns will be found the by-law granting a bonus to the Wood Mountain & Qu'- Appelle Railway, the vote on which is to be taken in this municipality on the 12th of February. The new by-law provides that the Railway shall enter the northern boundary of the municipality west of the easterly half of township sixteen range fourteen. This change is made to meet the views of the northern portion of the municipality.
This was a point that was contended or by certain ratepayers and it is to be hoped that they will now turn in and give the by-law their support.
In another column will be found a letter from Mr. A. M. McLane giving some figures in reference to the amount of money each farmer will have to pay should the bonus be granted. It appears that the present settlers who are the pioneers of the country, will only pay a small proportion of the tax, and that the great bulk of the taxes will be paid by the lands that are now held by non-residents and land companies. With the large amount of land now exempt from taxation the resident farmer can get nearly two dollars from the other ratepayers for every dollar he pays himself for improvements that will enhance the value of his property.
It is thus a paying investment for the farmer to bring money into the municipality, and increase the value of his own property for the most part at the expense of the non-resident.
Then too, before another year's taxes will have to be paid, much of the land that is now exempt will be rateable, and the taxes for the two bounties in 1887 will be less than for the one in 1886. The Dominion Government is having their interest in certain lands so adjusted, and is about to issue deeds to the C. P. R. Co., that in future any lands held by that Co., and occupied in any way, will be rateable. According to the present assessment roll, if the by-law passes, the resident farmer will pay on an average of $2.12 in 1887, but there is a great probability that owing to the probable increase in the amount of lands as rateable that the average amount will be not more than $2.
The question therefore resolves itself down to this whether there-really is a farmer in the municipality who will, for the sake of a penny $2 a year on a half section, vote against a railway that will be more than ten times that amount of benefit to him.

The Ontario Legislature will meet on Feb. 10.

The reduction of the British army of occupation in Egypt has begun.

THE COMMONS DISSOLVED.

News from Ottawa dated the 17th inst., announced that the Dominion Parliament had been dissolved, and that the nominations will take place on the 15th of February, and the elections in the east on the 22nd.
In the Northwest the nominations will take place the same day as in the east but the polling will be one month later. The Regina Leader, in an extra announcing the elections, throws down the gauntlet thus: "Now, friends of the Northwest, stand to your guns." In East Assiniboia the candidates are Mr. W. D.
Perley have been working and are confident of the result. In West Assiniboia the candidates are Mr.
Nicholas Flood Davin and Mr. J.
H. Ross, the former a Northwest Conservative, and the latter a Northwest Independent. In Saskatchewan candidates mentioned are Mr. E. A. Macdowall and Mr. O.
E. Hughes, Hon. D. Laird being said to be out of the race. In Alberta the candidates are numerous, at least the names of Mr. Hardisty and Mr. Oliver, of Edmonton.
Gen. Strange, of Calgary, and others have been mentioned in that connection. The contest throughout the Dominion, it is claimed by the Liberal-Conservative party will result in the present Government being sustained with a reduced majority, while the Opposition are confident of victory. The indications point to a probable return of a majority of Conservatives, though neither side is likely to have a large majority to boast of.

The Regina Journal in referring to the re-avowal of the independence of the Toronto Mail, catches at the following sentence made use of by the Mail: "The working partnership between us and the Conservative party has broken down." The Journal tries to make it appear that this is an admission of "the servility of the subsidised organs," and adds "with the Liberal press it is quite the reverse." The Journal man should be the last to talk of "subsidised organs." His avowed object in starting the Journal was to be in the field in time to get the Government printing of the Northwest after the next general election, as the Reform party would then, as he asserted, cost the present Government. Then too, it is a noticeable fact that the Journal's columns at first were quite free from politics, and even went so far as to throw out a sprat to His Honor the Lieut-Governor in the form of a commendatory article. But failing to catch any of the Northwest printing, the Journal has of late come out in its true colors, which are of the bitterest and extreme partisan stripe.
The Journal knows too well that one of the principles of the party to which it belongs is that "To the victors belongs the spoils."

Sir John Lester Kaye has completed arrangements with the Interior department for the establishment of ten large farms in the Northwest, and will leave for England shortly to organize his scheme.
Operations on farms will be commenced in the spring.

British naval pensioners have received a hint that they may be needed for active service.

The London Standard says that Mr.
Chisholm is willing to modify his Home Rule scheme to meet the views of the Chamberlain party. This is fairly denied by The Daily News.

The Government state that dissolution was decided upon as it became certain that all the voters' lists could be got ready in order that the two hundred thousand newly enfranchised voters may have representation at the earliest possible moment.

The knowledge of the means by which Mr. Mercier, the leader of the Riel party in Quebec, defeated the Ross Government is not confined to the Tory party alone. All English, speaking Liberals know that Mr. Mercier was one of the authors of the race and revenge cry, which he used so well that thousands of his compatriots became converts to the pernicious doctrines that he preached for a political purpose.
Yet this Mr. Mercier bobs up serenely to-day, and in his congratulatory telegram to the Hon. Oliver Mowat exclaims: "Thank God, the cry of race and revenge raised by fanatics was as unsuccessful in Ontario as it was in Quebec, and your people proved yesterday that they are not to be led away by appeals to religious prejudices made by hypocrites to conceal the political crimes of their party." The leader of the Riel party in Quebec will never perish politically for the want of gall.—Canadian American.

Contrary to the expectations of a number of American newspapers, the Home Government have approved of the legislation resting the rights of the Dominion of Canada upon the treaty of 1818. The lordly critics of the Dominion have been laboring under the delusion that Great Britain would take the fishery business out of the hands of our neighbor and settle it without consulting the interests of the Dominion. But "the colony" that has been belittled so persistently by the Jingo organs of the United States has been ably guided in this dispute; and having a case that it is not afraid to carry into court the Home authorities, mindful, perhaps, of the independent character of the colonists of North America, have wisely decided to "back up" the Dominion and so force the United States into agreeing to the appointment of a commission such as President Cleveland suggested was called for by the necessities of the case.—

That miserable little demagogue, Pacaud, of North Essex, was elected to the Ontario Legislature because Riel was executed. He goes to the Legislature as the representative of an idea that should be anything but popular in Ontario; and he is to sit beside loyal Canadians in a city that sent about a thousand of the "thieves and murderers"—as he was not long ago pleased to call them in his paper—who put down a rebellion in the Northwest. Pa-caud is not a credit to the party whose banner he carries.—Canadian-American.

An eastern contemporary says:
"There was an election in East Durham in 1885. On that occasion the Reform battle cry was that Riel was to be pardoned, though he deserved to be hanged. The Conservative majority was 270. In 1886 the Reform battle cry in the same constituency was that Riel deserved pardon and should not have been hanged. The Conservative majority was 383. The Reformers have tried the riding on both cries, and now they think it is so thoroughly steeped in wickedness as to be past redemption."

London, Jan. 12.—While holding a conference with Lord Salisbury to-day Lord Iddesleigh, who recently resigned the ministry of Foreign Affairs, was taken suddenly ill and died shortly after. He was sixty-four years old, and for years was leader of the Conservative party in the House of Commons, having served thirty years. He was better known as Sir Stafford Northcote.

It is understood there will be no new appointments under the Torrens act, recently put into operation in the Northwest. The registrars in the various districts will continue to perform their duties as formerly.
In all probability, Alberta will remain divided as at present, with officers at Calgary and Edmonton.

erty of the said Municipality.

Therefore, be it enacted by the Council attached to them Coupons for the payment of interest at the rate and in the manner aforesaid, and shall be signed by the Chairman and Clerk, and countersigned by the Treasurer of the said Municipality.

4. That for the purpose of paying the interest upon the said Debentures and creating a sinking fund for the payment of the said sum of Ten Thousand Dollars, there shall be raised, levied and collected in each and every year during the continuance of the said Debentures an annual special rate of one and twenty-eight one-hundredths mills in the dollar in addition to all other rates and assessments upon all the rateable property of the said Municipality.

payable at the office of the Imperial Bank of Canada, in the City of Winnipeg, in the Province of Manitoba.

6. That this By-Law shall take effect from and after the first day of March, A. D.
1887.

7. That the Manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada at Winnipeg, in the Province of Manitoba, shall be Trustee for the purpose of receiving, holding and delivering the said Debentures, subject to the stipulations hereinafter set forth.

8. That the Chairman of the said Municipality shall deliver to the said Trustee the said Debentures executed as aforesaid, payable in the manner and at the time and for city and the herebefore set forth, within thirty days from the date herein named, when this By-Law shall take effect, and the said Debentures shall be taken and received by the said Trustee or by the said Man-

9. That the said Trustee upon the delivery to him of the said Debentures shall hold the same under and subject to the following conpany shall have completely graded a line of of a mile from the present depot of the said Canadian Pacific Railway at Qu'Appelle at the time and in the manner set forth in the Act of Incorporation of the said Company and amendments thereto, then the said Trustee shall, upon the production to him of the certificate of an engineer thereunto appointed by the President of the said Company and the Chairman of the Municipality, proceed jointly to that effect deliver to the said Wood Mountain and Qu'Appelle Railway Company one of the said Debentures with the Coupons attached mile from the present depot of the said Canadian Pacific Railway, and shall have entered into an agreement with the said Canadian Pacific Railway Company for a Union Station at the said point of junction, then the said Trustee shall, upon the production to him of the certificates of the Government Engineer or Inspector of Railways there-unto appointed, deliver to the said Wood Mon-tain and Qu'Appelle Railway Company one of the said Debentures with Coupons attached, and also any interest that may have been paid thereon.

10. That the Wood Mountain and Qu'- Appelle Railway Company and all Landlords, Station grounds, Workshops, Buildings, Yards and other property, rolling stock and appurtenances required and used for the construction and working thereof, be free and exempt from taxation for the period of Twenty Years from the date fixed when this By-Law shall take effect subject to the following conditions:

(1) That the said Wood Mountain and Qu'- Appelle Railway Company shall have completed in proper condition for ordinary train fifteenth day of August, A. D. 1888, otherwise, the exemption from Taxation set forth in this Section shall be void and of no effect after the said fifteenth day of August, 1888.

(2) That if the said Wood Mountain and Qu'Appelle Railway Company shall fail to perform the conditions herebefore set forth then the said Trustee shall return the said debentures or such portion thereof as have not been transferred as herebefore provided, to the Corporation of the said Municipality of South Qu'Appelle, or some one duly authorized by the said Corporation to receive the same.

A HOME PICTURE.

Do you say this world is empty Because it is so full of pain?
Joy is here, and here is peace in Friendship's love, and here is gain?
In my heart a sacred picture Of a happy home is set,
And for those who find life empty The canvas will be set.

In a quiet, lowly parlour Out of the world's busy town, By green fields and willow-bordered Rivers, and the air is fragrant With the perfume of the flowers, How happy you are now!

Now the twilight hour is falling
And the stars are in the sky,
And the heart is full of longing
For the home that is so near,
For the heart is full of longing
For the home that is so near.

Janie on the steps is standing, Beside the door, and looking out,
And her eyes are full of longing
For the home that is so near,
For the home that is so near.

After supper comes a little With a lamp on each knee,
And the heart is full of longing
For the home that is so near,
For the home that is so near.

For some valued service given, Janie now is full of pride,
And her eyes are full of longing
For the home that is so near,
For the home that is so near.

Now the lamp is out and ended,
And the stars are in the sky,
For the home that is so near,
For the home that is so near.

In this house of love, O Father!
Thy love is in the air,
And thy love is in the air,
And thy love is in the air,
And thy love is in the air,
And thy love is in the air.

My heart is full of longing
For the home that is so near,
For the home that is so near,
For the home that is so near.

Not a week in the year goes by that some Christian missionary does not sail from some American port on the Atlantic or Pacific sea-board bound for some heathen land. Men and women, mar-daily with another errand than to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Never before have Christian missions shown such abundant promise.—*Inter-

One of our New York exchances calls attention to a matter that seems to warrant a remedy. We mean the failure of the churches generally to give notice, by a sign upon their outer walls, of their denominational connection and hours of service. We have occasionally seen such a sign, and thought it an excellent idea. But the rule is to display only one or more undarkened

A new method of popular instruction is said to be growing in favor in Germany. "Pyramids of Instruction" are being erected in various towns and cities that country, which show upon their faces the elevation of the place where the school is held. The difference between good time and that of Vienna, Paris, London, New York, etc., and such are placed a record, a become-er and a theodolite.

It is a custom of the day, in speaking of the children of girls, to incorporate into the subject the leading idea of everything feminine to be considered. It is a custom, in superintending the growth of the child, to supplies, so far as possible, the things desirable of which she herself was deprived in her youth. If the mother could practice teaching, the daughter gets it, or vice versa. Theory is of little use, but the mother is at work on this subject all the time.—Current.

The New York Observer says that for the last thirty-four years the Bible business day, and at an outlay of about $65,000,000, or 145,000,000 copies of the Scriptures have been published by these two societies since their formation in 1801 and 1816, the dates of their respective organizations. It is has been estimated, the numerous Bible societies and private publishers have issued as many more copies, the number of copies of the Scriptures printed would about equal a copy for every family now living on the globe.

schools, 64 are under the control of the Roman Catholic, one under Mohammedan and one under Jewish. The teachers number 180, the pupils 8,114—namely, 3,240 boys and 4,874 girls. In comparison with previous years, there has been a great advance in educational affairs in these countries; especially do the Mohammedan inhabitants seem to appre-their children.

Minds Discussed.

A singular case was brought before a city court not long since. A gentleman of high social standing, the son of a great family, and an eminent lawyer and scholar, had been imprisoned by his sister and brother in an insane asylum, but had regained his freedom.
They were ordered to make satisfaction most perpetual, and to obtain control of his property on the ground that he was a lunatic. The only delusion under which he labored was his belief that he heard incessantly the voices of unknown persons. Two men, he declared whom he had solicited, had conspired to annoy him in this way, and by means of electrical power conveyed the sounds to his ear. Exactly how it was done was a scientific secret, but yet unknown.

He conducted his own defense in court, and made a plea so logical, powerful and scholarly that it convinced his hearers of his sanity. No more masterly or brilliant argument had ever been heard in these halls. He was dismissed a free man, but he persisted in his delusion that the voices still sounded in his ears.

How far the brain may receive such delusions, and yet remain sane and responsible enough to control our relationships to God and our brother-man is one of the most difficult questions in metaphysics. Dr. Johnson was saner than his generation, for most vital questions, yet he would not walk down a certain street without striking every post with his cane, and if he omitted one, would come back a square to touch it, "not to give offence."

One of the most curious legends of American men of letters had a singular love of horses, and to his intimate friends declared his firm belief that they had human souls.

A well-known leader of society in one of our cities, a woman who managed large literary and charitable organizations with exceptional shrewdness and business ability, was, during her whole life, convinced that, whenever she looked into a mirror for head dress, and remained dead for many minutes.

If the most prosaic and practical man among us would look closely into his own belt, he would probably find some loving expression of his wife's affection, or of the three-throat table, or of a harmless back set, which, to a perfectly sane mind, would seem only a usual whim.

On the other hand, it is hardly safe to allow only the most prosaic minds to measure the bounds of reason and reason. To a jury of dull, illiterate men, Hawthorne's moods of causality and Poe's dark castles, Byron's melancholy, and the count of the doctor of lunacy. Poe's rank with suggest that "Madness and genius are near allied."

And this is true, for the reason is that the mind, with all its knowledge of human nature, could not do the work of the partitions.—*Woolf's Con-

The Early Fly.

If the origin of all things is a mystery, the genesis of the early fly is a still greater one. Nor is this statement antagonized by an ancient and well-worn notion that the whole greater part of its parts—or, if it is, then so much the worse for the old axiom.
It is easy enough to see how the origin of existence in general should be a mystery. Existence in general is something large and vague, and it is not specially mortifying to confess one's ignorance in regard to the origin of some tremendous generality. But the fly—the early fly in particular—is not general, nor large, nor vague. He is particular—in his attentions, if not in his diet—and very definite, and small.
It is therefore the more wonderful that he should spring into existence out of apparent nothingness. But that is what he does. Nobody knows whence he comes, but on the first really warm day he is here and ready for business.
He never has any period of helpless infancy, either. He begins full-grown and self-reliant, and it is not, to be sure, but it is not for support. We never yet heard of a fly who was not fully able to support himself. And yet he soon becomes insupportable.

But to return to its origin. It is the general law of all genera that he grows on window panes, and we do not know that any better theory has been devised.
There is where he makes his first appearance, at any rate. A manufacturer of window panes, and a patentee of a process for making panes that would not produce or nourish flies would make a fortune out of it. We do not believe, however, that such a process is possible.
It seems to be an inherent and essential property of window panes to produce flies. It certainly is an inherent and essential property of flies to produce or aggravate pains. And yet, strangely speaking, flies have no property of their own. They live altogether on other people's property. Perhaps that is the reason that such persons as Mr.
Ferdinand Ward are sometimes called "too fly." At all events, flies are very expensive animals. The counting of the early fly terrifies the housekeeper into providing wire-crooks for his doors and windows, at a cost of one hundred dollars or more. It necessitates the enclosing of portraits and pictures in frames. When the swarm arrives in force it is very hard on shoes. The only consolation provided is the reflection that next November they will have gone almost as suddenly and mysteriously as he came.—*N. Y. Mail and

A Fertile Rock.

The whole island of Bermuda is a mass of rock of the coral limestone order.
But to say that it is a rocky isle would after all, be a very poor description of it to a Northern person. With us a rocky place is barren and useless. But this rock is soft and trees and plants grow in it almost as well as in earth. There are some places where the whole island, except where it has been cleared, in some places are large tracts of pine woods; in others the ground is hidden by dense masses of a sort of chapparral, growing ten or twelve feet high, and which, when young, are full of flowers of all it be a solid rock. There is a foot or two of soil in some places that has come from nobody knows where. But the usual process of making a garden is to dig down a foot or so of the rock with a sledge and crowbar, mash it up fine, and mix it in enough to prevent the rock from hardening again. In this compound anything under the sun will grow, and grow luxuriantly. A man who takes the much trouble to make a garden can have green peas and fresh lettuce and all the other vegetables on his table every day in the year. There is no season when vegetation does not flourish, and when the garden is once made it is always there. A man goes out with crowbars and sets out cocoanut trees, and in a few years they are tall and beautiful and bear a cocoanut (so the saying is) for every day in the year. There is nourishment for plants in the material of the rock. Where this coral limestone came from is a question that scientific people can settle to suit themselves. It must be of enormous volume, and it came from it is here, and is very useful.
Nearly all of the houses are built of it.
You have only to saw down into the quarries to get the most beautiful big blocks of it that make handsome and substantial houses. The blocks hardly by exposure to the air, and in this climate soon become as durable as granite.
Out of the rock, too, water-tanks are built to catch rain water. Every house has its tank. There are springs and wells, but I believe the rain-water is considered healthier to drink.—*N. Y.
Tribune.*

The Duke of Wellington's Experiment.

In a ground-floor room in one of the large public buildings of London a man was writing at a table covered with papers. He was a short, strongly built figure, with a prominent nose, and a face that was massive as a granite statue, wearing the set look peculiar to men who have surmounted great difficulties and confronted great perils.
Few, indeed, had had more practice in both than this man, for he was no other than the Duke of Wellington, and his crowning victory at Waterloo was still but a few years old.

There was the tinkle of a bell outside, and then a murmur of voices in the anteroom, but the Duke never raised his head from his writing, even when his secretary entered and said:

"If it please your Grace, that man with the bullet-proof breastplate has called again, and wishes very much to see your Grace for a moment."

The Duke's face darkened, as well it might, for the man in question was the most pertinacious bore whom he had ever encountered. The bullet-proof coarse was his own invention, and he never lost a chance of declaring that the safety of the whole British army depended upon the instant adoption of this "unparalleled discovery," which he carried about with him, and exhibited at all times and in all places.

Had this been all, he would soon have been disposed of; but, unluckily, he had contrived to interest in his invention one or two of the Duke's personal friends, and to get from them letters of recommendation which even Wellington could not easily disregard.
Something must clearly be done, however; for although the fellow had hitherto been kept at bay, he was evidently determined to give the Duke no peace till the matter had been fully gone into.

For a moment Wellington looked so grim that the secretary began to hope for the order which he would gladly have obeyed, viz., to kick the inventor into the street forthwith. But the next instant the iron face cleared again, and over it played the very ghost of a smile, like a gleam of winter sunshine upon a precipice.

"Show him in," said he, briefly.
The observant secretary noted both the tone and the smile that accompanied it, and he inwardly decided that it would have been better for the inventor if he had not insisted on seeing the duke.

In came the great discoverer—a tall, slender, shabby, slightly red-nosed man, with a white, jaunty air, which gave way a little, however, before the "iron Duke's" penetrating glance.

"I am glad to think that your Grace approaches the merits of my invention," said he, in a patronizing tone.
"They are, indeed, too important to be undervalued by any great commander. Your Grace cannot fail to realize the havoc made by your gallant army among the French cuirassiers, whose breastplates were not bullet-proof, whereas, if—"

"Have you not the thing with you?" interrupted Wellington.

The inventor snatched up a very showy looking cuirass of polished steel, and was just beginning a long lecture upon its merits, when the Duke cut him short by asking:

"Are you quite sure it is bulletproof?"

"Quite sure, your Grace."

"Put it on, then, and go and stand in that corner."

The other wonderfully obeyed.

"Mr. Lemps!" shouted Wellington to his secretary, "tell the sentry outside to load with ball-cartridge, and come in here to test this cuirass. Quick, now!"

But quick though the secretary was, the inventor was quicker still. The moment he realized that he had been set up there on purpose to be fired at, and to be shot dead on the spot if his cuirass turned out to be not bullet-proof after all, he leaped headlong through the open window with a yell worthy of a Blackfoot Indian, and darting like a rocket across the court-yard, vanished through the outer gateway; nor did the Duke of Wellington, from that day forth, ever see or hear of him again.— jury recently at Baltimore very plainly that fairs will be considered an evil to be frowned upon, and chances in holiday presents as a thing to be avoided. The grosser forms of this vice are liable to punishment, and when the business of gambling is carried on in violation of law, the duty to society requires that the offence should not be lightly passed over, but should be prosecuted."—N. Y. Tribune.

Correspondence,

(Our columns are open to all provided the subject matter is of public interest, and proper language is used, but in no case do we hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by correspondents.)

To the Editor of the Progress—

Sir,—It was with pleasure I accepted an invitation from two late students of St. John's College Farm, and was very pleased to see the masterly way they have commenced farming operations and especially noticed a stable which has not perhaps its equal for size warmth and comfort for stock on any farm in the North-West Territories. The stable is dug out a depth of five feet in length and twenty-five in width containing room for thirty or forty head of cattle with hay loft above which will contain twenty tons of hay. Light is admitted from six windows three on each side, and the floor of logs has been suitably leveled by an adze. Great credit is due to Messrs. Cates & Spencer for the very capital work that has been done. On asking Mr. Hopenstall and Charlesworth the cost we were told that $220 covered the whole expense and I have never seen a cheaper constructed stable. Time has not allowed for the finishing of their house which is forty-eight ft. in length and eighteen ft. in width. The stock twelve in number were in a very healthy condition and we hope his Lordship will have the same success with other students as he has with the first farmers of St. John's College.

I remain yours obediently, Qu'Appelle Farmer.

Winnipeg Jan. 10th, 1887.
Sir,—The Salvation Army has made a charge on Winnipeg and they were doing good work last night, I thought I would go to their Hall and see how they performed. They had a very large meeting and quite a large number were converted, among them were three young men from Wolsley one of them being a sub-contractor on the Manitoba & North Western Railway last year. The Salvation Army is going to remain in Winnipeg for some time and then they are going to the North-west to try and convert the Indians, they will visit all the Reserves, I think the Wolsley boy will follow them.

To Relieve the Suffering.

"The successful firm known as the Starr Kidney Pad Company, of Toronto, are about to introduce their efficacious and reliable proprietary medicines into this province. They manufacture Dr. Starr's Kidney Pad for lame, weak and sore backs, which have been sold long and extensively throughout Manitoba, Ontario, and the lower provinces and in England. The cures effected by these pads are said to be marvelous, it is relieving and curing those—said to be incurable—diseases known as diabetes and Bright's disease of the kidneys. A leading eastern M.P. says these pads are certainly the best remedy ever tried in his locality for kidney or urinary diseases. These kidney pads ought to have a large sale in this province, as there are many miners, fishermen and railroad navies afflicted with kidney disorders, to say nothing of its prevalence among other classes of our people. The same company also manufacture numerous other medicines for the cure of other of the many ills which flesh is heir to. A general agent will be appointed for the province. We wish the company success."—Victoria Daily Times, Sept. 9, 1886.

HOME & GOSSIP.

QU'APPELLE.

—Carnival at the risk tonight. A big time is expected, there are numerous costumes being prepared.

—Mr. A. McLeod left here on Monday night to go to Medicine Hat to take a situation in the C. P. R. office there.

—The dog stealers will get caught one of these fine nights and then somebody will see the inside of Regina jail for a few months.

—His Honor E. Dowdney and Mrs. Dowdney returned from their eastern trip on Saturday last. They were accompanied by Mr. McGire.

—Mr. F. L. Osler's numerous friends were pleased to welcome him back from his trip to Toronto. He arrived by the train on Friday night.

—Do not forget the Burns' concert next Tuesday evening in the immigrant building. Judging from the preparations being made an excellent program may be expected.

—At the Queen's: A. Sprout, W. Peterson, Prince Albert; S. W. Chambers, H. Chilcott, Geo. Craig, Winnipeg; F. L. Osler, Toronto; J. F. Guerin, Whitewood.

—Think twice before you decide to vote against the bonus to the railway for the sake of the paltry sum of two dollars a year on a half section of land, with the certainty that it will be less every year.

—We learn from a private source that Government is so arranging their interest now held in lands, including town sites, that there will be a greater area of taxable land this year in the Northwest. This will help our railway bonus.

—The resident farmer is asked to read carefully the letter of Mr. A. M. McLane in this week's PROGRESS. In 1887, the average tax on a half section for the railway bonus, if passed, will only be $2.12. Who will take the responsibility of voting against his own interest and the interest of the whole municipality for that insignificant amount?

—At the Leland: T. H. Albinston, Moose Jaw; G. J. Goldie, T. J. Baker, Jns. Thorburn, H. B. McDonald, Dr. Seymour, Fort Qu'Appelle; W. D. Perley, Wolsley; M. Elliot, J. G. Scott, Prince Albert; S. Gagnon, W. G. Keown, D. S. R. Lennox, Regina; J. W. Price, Touchwood, Arthur Jenkins, Brockville; Chas. W. Thompson, Arden Court, England.

—Would it not be well to get up a petition to the Postmaster General asking to have the names of the post offices here and at the Fort conform to the registered names of the towns, namely Qu'Appelle and Fort Qu'Appelle. That is the way nine tenths of the matter that passes through the mails is now addressed, and the distinction would be quite sufficient to avoid confusion.

—Messrs. D. H. McMillan & Bro. are paying 65 cents per bushel for good wheat. The highest price paid in Brandon this week was 57 cents. What would the farmers now get for their wheat if they had not bounced the mill? If they had a good crop, the difference would mean more than pay the bonus. And so it will be if they bounce the railway. They will gain far more than they pay out.

—Rev. Alfred Andrews received a telegram on Monday evening that his father was dying at his residence in Aurora, Ont. He left by train on Tuesday morning to attend the funeral. Rev. A. Hamilton will preach for him in Qu'Appelle next Sunday evening morning service as usual. On the Sunday following Rev. O. Darwin is expected to take his work here morning and evening and Elgeley in the afternoon. Mr. Andrews expects to be home about the first Sunday in February.

—The greatest consolation to one growing old, is the improved surroundings which come with age, experience and wisdom. We are reminded of this fact by the appearance of the new Seed Annual of D. M. Ferry & Co., the celebrated seedsmen of Detroit, Mich. (They enjoy the enviable reputation of being the widest and best known firm in the United States.) Millions of people, gardening both for profit and pleasure, have found ever increasing satisfaction and delight in using their seeds. Every one desiring seeds of the highest type and best quality, should secure their Annual. It is sent free on application.

—There is now more snow in this district than there was altogether last winter.

—An emergency meeting of Qu'Appelle Masonic Lodge will be held on Friday evening next.

—Mr. W. D. Perley, M. N. W. C. passed through here on Friday last and returned home on Saturday.

—Mr. B. P. Richardson, of Grenfell, was in town last week. He expresses surprise at the growth of the town since May last.

—If this is not a prohibition country, which the Vidette says it is not, will it tell its readers what is needed to make it so, or why it is not?

—A meeting of those interested in granting a bonus to the Railway Company will be held in McLane's Hall on Saturday evening next, the 22nd inst.

—Dr. Seymour, of Fort Qu'Appelle, Inspector of Schools for East Assiniboia, passed through here on his way to and from the school teachers' examination for certificates at Wolsley, last week.

—Col. Sprout, of Prince Albert, was in town Tuesday, on his way to Winnipeg. He says Hon. D. Laird will not be a candidate for the representation of Saskatchewan in the House of Commons. Then why all this ado in the Regina papers about Laird and permits.

WE WONDER

—Where all the dogs in mitts come from?

—Who will be the Opposition candidate?

—What has happened to the solar system?

—Who drove his girl home on Sunday night?

—Where all the political pointers come from?

—How often a councillor can repeat his speech?

—What will be the political stripe of the four representatives to the Commons from the Northwest?

—Why Dame Rumor says the Opposition candidate lives in the western portion of East Assiniboia?

—Why anybody will vote against a railway through the municipality because it will cost him $2.12 a year?

—If the Northwest Council will hold another session before the close of the time of service of the present members?

—Why anybody should be so blind to their own interest as to vote against the bonus to the Wood Mountain and Qu'Appelle Railway?

—How much satisfaction it is to a man to stop his local paper because it is fearless and outspoken in the interest of the whole people, but does not happen to agree with his particular views?

Sir,—As the By-law granting a bonus to the Wood Mountain & Qu'Appelle Railway is soon likely to be submitted for the assent of the Ratepayers of the municipality, I wish to make a few statements for the consideration of the farming community throughout the municipality. We often hear the remark that the Railway will only benefit the town while the farmers will have to pay the greater part of the bonus. Now sir, I have carefully gone over the collector's Roll for 1886. After leaving out all property on which there is a doubt about whether taxes can be collected or not, viz., lands of the Ontario & Qu'Appelle Land Co. in Townships 14, 15, 16 and 17, in Range 14, all lands owned or held in trust by the Canada & Northwest Land Co., land assessed to Patrick Hughes & Co., in Range 16, and that portion of the townsite held by the trustees of the town site, I find that the amount that will be collected for the mill bonus for 1886, will be $2,065. Of this amount the actual resident farmers of the municipality pay $700, the balance of the Ratepayers pay $1,300. The proportion of the $1,100 required to pay off the mill debt (which the actual farmer will pay is $407, the balance of the Ratepayers $693, there will be a surplus after paying the amount required for the mill bonus of nearly $1,000. This may seem strange to the electors that the council raised so much more money than was required to meet the debt; this is caused from the fact that it is impossible to arrive at any idea of how much money a certain number of mills on the dollar on the assessment will raise; for instance, the collector's roll for this municipality for the year 1884 at the same rate as was struck for 1886 only raised $1,300 and for 1885 $2,000, while the roll for 1886 will raise $2,950.

I think the farming community will see by these figures that they are not paying the greater portion of the bonus, only about one-third while the balance of the ratepayers pay about two-thirds. Another argument which is used against the bonus is that the out-laying farmers will not receive as much benefit from the construction of the Railway as those near the town of Qu'Appelle. This I admit, but upon the other hand the assessment upon lands at a distance from the town is not as high as upon lands within a short distance from the town. For instance, the average amount which is collected upon each 1/2 Sec. in Range 16 is $3.66, upon each 1/2 Sec. in Range 15 is $4.42, upon each 1/2 Sec. in Range 14 is $4.61, so that you see if the farmer whose land may not be enhanced in value quite as much as some others, yet he does not pay quite as much of the debt.

I trust that the farmers of the Southern and Southwestern portion of the municipality will remember the fairness that they have received at the hands of the northern portion of the municipality in arranging the wards so that they have equal representation with the north, although fewer in number, and also a smaller tax to pay at the same time. Trusting that we may work in unison for our common welfare and endeavor by securing the Wood Mountain & Qu'Appelle Railway to make this municipality the wholesale distributing point and commercial center of Assiniboia.

Yours respectfully,
A. M. McLANE
